An Anthropology of Money: A Critical Introduction

An Anthropology of Money: A Critical Introduction shows how our present monetary system was imposed by elites and how they benefit from it. The book poses the question: how, by looking at different forms of money, can we appreciate that they have different effects? The authors demonstrate how modern money requires perpetual growth, an increase in inequality, environmental devastation, increasing commoditization, and, consequently, the perpetual consumption of ever more stuff. These are not intrinsic features of money, but, rather, of debt-money. This text shows that, through studying money in other cultures, we can have money that better serves the broader goals of society.

Dr. Tim Di Muzio is Senior Lecturer in International Relations and Global Political Economy at the School of Humanities and Social Inquiry, University of Wollongong, Australia.

Dr. Richard H. Robbins is SUNY Distinguished Teaching Professor of Anthropology at SUNY at Plattsburg, USA.
